

Demo Exam Preparation Syllabus

Unit 1 – Database Management Systems

- Introduction to DBMS and database concepts
- Database models and relational concepts
- Keys, constraints, and relationships
- SQL and relational operations
- Functional dependencies and normalization
- Transactions, ACID properties, and concurrency control

Unit 2 – Software Engineering

- Introduction to software engineering
- Software development life cycle
- Software process models
- Requirements engineering
- Software architecture and design
- Software testing
- Software maintenance

Unit 3 – Computer Graphics

- Graphics hardware and display technology
- Raster-scan and vector displays
- Display processors
- Graphics software standards
- DDA and Bresenham line algorithms
- Circle and ellipse algorithms
- Area filling algorithms
- Two-dimensional geometric transformations

Note

- This is a demo syllabus created for testing the Exam Preparation RAG project. It is not an official university or examination syllabus.
- Replace this file with your actual syllabus PDF when building the final project.